

Illuminating Theology With Psychological Science

Realities of Psychological Research

This work was created by Jo-Ann Tsang and is licensed under a CC-BY-NC-SA license.

REALITIES OF PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH

IN-LAB EXPERIMENTS

JO-ANN TSANG, PH.D

ELEMENTS

Topic

Measures

Ethics

Timeline

TOPIC: EMPATHY AND SELF- FORGIVENESS

- Empathy with victim of transgression will
 - Increase guilt
 - Decrease self-forgiveness
 - Increase conciliatory behavior

MEASUREMENT AND OPERATIONALIZATION:

Engineered Transgression

MEASUREMENT AND OPERATIONALIZATION

- Independent variable: Empathy
 - objective condition, do not get too caught up in the partner's introduction/narrative, approach the study objectively.
 - empathy condition: see the study from the partner's point of view.
 - personal-distress condition: imagine how they would feel in the partner's situation throughout the study

MEASUREMENT AND OPERATIONALIZATION

- Transgression: failure to help person in need
- Dependent variables:
 - Apologetic content in note
 - Self reported guilt, shame, and self-forgiveness
 - Behavioral self-forgiveness

ETHICS

- Deception and debriefing
- Participant distress

TIMELINE

- IRB proposal: April 2011
- Script: January 2013
- Evaluation form to address distress:
December 2013
- Analyses and write-up: 3+ months
- Review: 3+ months

